Description:

Scarce map of the route of the British explorers from Fort William on Lake Superior to Lake Winnipeg, during Franklin's explorations of the Polar regions of Canada. The map accompanied the first edition of Franklin's Narrative of his second expedition to the Arctic. Highly detailed map, including many place names and field notes, topographical details, Indian Names etc.. An important milestone in the exploration of the region and pursuit of the Northwest Passage. A few minor fold splits, but generally a very nice example.
