Description:

This vintage 1951 folding pamphlet features two pictorial maps published by Mesa Verde Co., a concessioner authorized by the National Park Service and the U.S. Department of the Interior to provide public service in Mesa Verde National Park, Colorado.

The general map showcases scenic southern highways across the Rockies, with Mesa Verde at the center. It also highlights various cities and attractions, including Salt Lake City, Provo (referred to as "The Mormon Country"), Denver, Santa Fe, and the Grand Canyon.

The second map offers a more focused view of the Mesa Verde National Park, depicting specific buildings and important locations within the park complex. This comprehensive guide provides an excellent visual overview of the park and its surrounding regions for visitors exploring the area.
