Description:

Fine original antique map of the course of the Rhone River in Switzerland as it passes under the shadow of the Matterhorn. This map was issued by Sebastian Munster at his publishing firm in Basel, where he produced the first maps of many European regions.

The map, orientated with south at the top of the map, shows the river as it flows from Brig to Raron. Numerous other smaller towns are shown, coats of arms of various Swiss cantons and imperial regions are included, and forests, mountains, and more are shown pictorially.
