Description:

Claes Janszoon Visscher Edition of the Claes/Van Duetecum Map of Hungary

Fine old color example of this important early map of Hungary, centered on the course of the Danube River, from Hungary to Romania, published by Claes Janszoon Visscher in 1624.

The map was first published by Cornelis Claesz in 1596.

The map extends from Maribor, Zagreb and Vienna in the west, to Sibiu, Pitesti and Fagaras in Romania. A double headed eagle in the middle bears the arms of Hungary.

The map includes small coats of arms, bird's eye views of the cities and descriptions of the important battles. The sign in the lower cartouche explains that the towns conquered by the Ottomans are marked with a crescent on the top and the Christian towns with a cross.
