Description:

Detailed 17th Century map of Catalonia and Roussillon, by Jean-Baptiste Nolin, based upon an early map by Cantelli, which was thereafter revised by Tillemont.

The map is finely detailed, showing towns, roads, rivers, mountains, lakes, cities, bays, islands, castles and a host of other details.

This was apparently a later issue of the map, as the printing plate shows signs of wear and cracking.

Detailed Condition:

Minor soiling and foxing. Evidence of cracking in the copper plate at top and bottom, suggesting that the map was printed late in the life of the printing plate.
