Description:

Spanish Sea Chart of the Malacca Strait and Environs -- Singapore

Fine Spanish nautical chart, illustrating the Straits of Malacca and northwestern Borneo, published by the Spanish Hydrographical Office in 1864.

The map credits the work of modern British and Dutch Surveys.

From "Pedra Branca" north of Bintan Island, the two recommended routes to Hong Kong during the different season are shown.

Singapore appears prominently at the southern tip of Malaysia, with extensive soundings and sailing details.

Rarity

The chart is apparently quite rare. This is the first example we have seen on the market.

Detailed Condition:

Repaired tear at left margin, in the center, entering just into the printed image (to the right of the U and L in "INSULA").
