Description:

Excellent early map of Idaho Territory, Wyoming Territory and Montana Territory, published by OW Gray.

Wyoming is shown with only 7 counties. Idaho has 13 counties and Montana has only 12. Yellowstone National Park is noted as a proposed national park. Many Indian tribes are shown, along with reservations. Early railroad lines are shown, along with stations, towns, etc. Includes early forts, mountains, rivers and other details.

This is one of the best maps of the period and a series of these maps over the course of a decade tracks the fast expansion of knowledge of the region, driven by mining booms and government mapping and explorations.

Detailed Condition:

Map of Colorado on verso. Some foxing, mostly contained to margins. Uneven trim to lower margin.
