Description:

Title page from De Bry's Account of Benzoni's travels in the new world. Born in Italy about 1520, Benzoni spent many years in America. In 1565, published an account of his travels and adventures, from 1541 until 1556. De Bry published some of the earliest illustrated works on early Travels in the Americas. He employed some of the best engravers of the period and converted the works of early sketch artists and travel accounts into some of the earliest maps and visual images of the new world. Minor loss at the upper right corner, but still a nice example in full color.
