Description:

Fine separately issued example of this detailed chart of the southern coast of Peru, centered on the Rio Quilca, based upon surveys by Ange Rene Armand, Baron de Mackau (1788-1855).

The map was prepared during the Baron de MacKau's expedition to the Pacific, in order to conduct negotiations with the newly formed states of Chile and Peru. The chart includes sailing directions, soundings, anchorages and extensive topographical detail along the coast.

The map also appeared in volume 7 of the Neptune Francois, an extensive atlas of charts of the western coasts of North and South America, with most charts dated or updated to the 1820's.

This example was offered for sale separately the firm of Fillastre Freres of Bordeaux, "Depot des Cartes, Plans et Instructions pour la Marine."
