Description:

Decorative map of the world, which includes a number of mythical and still unknown areas. The map predates Cook's discoveries in the Pacific and along the NW Coast of America. The incomplete Australia and New Zealand and NW Coast of America are of particular note, along with the blank area in the Pacific NW. The map includes the earliest dissemination of the Russian Discoveries in the North Pacific by Tchirikow and others. A nice example in attractive full color on nice thick paper.
