Description:

One of the earliest maps to name the US. Shows colonies, but limits them to the region east of the Alleghanys & Appalachians. The west remains French & Indian, with forts, settlements, Indian tribes, etc. Nicely detailed & important map. Still no Vermont. Detroit is shown. Brion de la Tour apparently rushed this map into production, as it lacks the characteristic borders and is a single page map, rather than the usual double page map from his atlases.
