Description:

Gorgeous double hemisphere map of the World, from the Atlas contenant Les Quartes Partis Du Monde, published by the French Royal Academy of Sciences, and engraved by Pierre Bourgoin. The basis of this map was Janvier's 1762 map. Includes a massive Bay of the West in the Northwest coast of North America. The mapping of Australia is very tentative, appearing as Nouvelle Hollande, but with an ill-defined outline. The supposed existence of a great landmass at the South Pole is indicated by Terres Australes. An armillary sphere and other scientific objects are depicted at bottom, while the title is embellished with a decorative cartouche. Gorgeous full color example of this scarce world map.
