Description:

Interesting map of the Northwest. Oregon and Washington now include counties east of the Cascade Mountains, but still very few, several of which are still unnamed. Massive Idaho includes only 4 counties, one of which (Spokane) extends from Washington and one of which (Idaho), is unnamed. The other two counties are Shoshone and Nez Perce. The map includes many early roads and explorer routes, early forts, etc. Windmill Rock, Old Crater and Fishing Falls are shown on the Snake River, as is Fort Boise and Fort Hall. Many Indian Tribes are named. A bit of soiling in the margins, but generally a good example.
