Description:

Rare early example of Goos' map of the Noort Zee, extending from the Mouth of the Thames and the English Channel and Calais and Dunkirk to Stetin and Christianopolen on the Baltic and Dronten and Schogen in Norway, in full original color. The map was remargined at an early date and has a bit of loss at the neatlines and in the upper right corner, but is otherwise a nice example, including 3 compass roses and the coat of arms of the four major contiguous nations., along with a sailing ship and two cartouches. While we were able to locate copies of the map dated 1666, we were unable to locate a reference to an edition dated 1662. The 1666 example was last offered in a dealer catalogue in 1990.
