Description:

Extremely rare German edition of Pages map of Mexico, Texas, Louisiana and the Southwest, which was first issued in the first edition of his Voyages Au Tour Du Monde, published in 1782.

Pages accompanied the Spanish Governor of Texas on a journey from New Orleans to Natchitoches and on to San Antonio by way of the Red River in 1767. The book includes a 15 page account of Texas. Humboldt notes Pages' visit to Saltillo in 1767 in his seminal work on New Spain. The map tracks Pages' journey from New Orleans to Acapulco, first up the Red River, then overland, identifying a number of Missions and other settlements and Indian Villages in Texas and Louisiana.

The map rarely appears separately on the market.
