Description:

Nice example of Jaillot's 6 sheet wall map of Asia, in gorgeous full color. The map includes remarkable detail throughout and is based upon the best geographical information available at the time. Includes an incomplete coastline of northwestern Australia, nice detail in southeast asia (although the Philippines is a bit oddly displayed), Korea as a peninsula and a very curious peninsula in NE Asia, reaching to the northern tip of Japan. The NE Coast of Asia is largely unknown and the NE Passage is treated as wide open and without impediments. The map pre-dates the Russian discoveries in the NE part of Asia, beginning in the mid-18th Century. Minor discoloration where several of the sheets are joined and some very minor loss within the image, but in all a beautiful example, which has been laid on fresh linen.
