Description:

Second edition of Arrowsmith's four sheet map of Florida, the Gulf Coast, West Indies and Central America.

Excellent treatment of the Gulf Coast and East & West Florida, based in part on the surveys conducted by De Brahm and Romans just prior to the American Revolution. Streeter notes that the coast line follows generally the Carta Esferica of 1799, but with the longitude of Sabine Pass nearly correct, unlike the Carta Esferica. The map presents a highly detailed look at the region on the eve of the War of 1812, at a time when England still had significant colonial interests in the region. The present example is in full original color, which is quite unusual for this map.

Detailed Condition:

The map has been joined, but is not backed with linen. There are a few tiny losses below Hispaniola, but generally the map is in remarkable condition for an old color example which was never folded or backed with linen.
