Description:

Finely engraved and highly detailed section of Thomas Jefferys' rare 6-sheet Mapa ou carta Geographica dos Reinos de Portugal e Algarve, published in London in 1762. Jefferys apparently collaborated with Miguel Rodrigues, who was then working as a printer for the Bishop of Lisbon, although Rodrigues connection to Jefferys and this map are unknown.

The map provides an extremely detailed view of Andalusia, including towns, roads, mountains, rivers and many other fine details. A remarkable work.

Detailed Condition:

Some staining in the right side of the map, just entering the printed image
