Description:

Extremely rare map of part of Southwestern Colorado, which was included in a very rare promotional pamphlet for the Denver & Southwestern Railroad.

Highly detailed map of the region between Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Canon Springs and Woodland, centered on the Pikes Peak and Cripple Creek areas. The Denver & Southwestern Railway enjoyed a very brief but fascinating history at end of the 19th & beginning of the 20th Century, at the hands of several famous promoters. The map shows the proposed extent of the railroad in red, printed on a highly unusual topographical brown background.

Detailed Condition:

A few minor fold splits, repaired on verso.
