Description:

Scarce first edition of Mitchell's map of Indiana.

Detailed map of Indiana from Mitchell's New Universal Atlas, showing early railroads, townships, canals, etc. Handcolored by county. Statistical table shows steam boat routes.

The first edition can be determined by the inclusion of Mitchell's name in the title (without date), but lack of the Burroughs copyright. This is generally true with most of the maps which appeared in the final edition of Tanner's New Universal Atlas, with the Burroughs name and 1846 copyright date retained until 1850, when the rights were sold to Thomas Cowperthwait and the copyright information updated.
