Description:

Faden's map of the US is one of the most fascinating maps of the period. While perhaps its most famous feature is its references to Franklinia--New State of Franklin, it has a number of other fascinating bits of contemporary information. Beginning in Louisiana Territory, there are refernces to New Iberia and Arkansas or the Fair Nation. The borders of the Carolinas are shown extending beyond the Mississippi to the Pacific Coast, with a reference to the South Sea Charter. The source of the Missouri is noted as unknown. Massive Western Territory, covering Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and part of Minnesota. The various company lands are shown in the West, including New Jersy Company, Wabash Company, the Army Lands, the Lands reserved for the Carolina Troops, Colonel Simms, Donation Lands, Seven Ranges, Virginia Troops, etc. Georgia runs to the Mississippi, with lots of Indian Tribes and East & West Florida shown. Several early roads in Texas. The Twenty Leagues Line is Interesting note indicates that the British Denomination of East and West Florida has been retained, although perhaps not adopted by the Spanish. Too many other fascinating details to mention all of them. While there were early and later editions of the map, this is without doubt the scarcest and most highly sought after of all editions. A bit of offsetting, but a nice wide margined example.
