Description:

Scarce map of the upper Po River and its tributaries, in the Marquisat of Saluzzo, Valle di Lucerne, Valli di St. Martino and Valle di Pragelato, with Torino in the northwest corner, from Rossi's rare Mercurio Geografico.

The map is a tremendous example of the fine topographical style of Rossi's maps, elegantly tracing rivers through steep and well defined mountain valleys. Includes a key in the lower left, depicting the symbols used on the map. An uncommon late 17th century map, based on the reports of Giacomo Cantelli da Vignola.
