Description:

Nice example of Dezauche's recently revised edition of De L'Isle's map of Europe,

The map is colored by countries, with a new decorative cartouche, which was replaced after the French Revolution to remove the coats of arms and other references to the royal family, including the prior dedication to the King of France.

Curiously, this edition retains the reference showing that the map extends from the "Premier Meridian fixe a l'isle de fer Par la declaration du Roy Louis XIII" to Muscovie and the Caspian Sea. Apparently, this reference to Louis XIII bore sufficient scientific merit to be retained.
