Description:

Early regional map of the region bounded the Isle of Margarita, Trinidad and Tobago and the mouth of the Orinoco River in the North and extending south to the mouth of the Amazon in the South and showing all of the mythical Parime River in central South America. The map covers equatorial South America, east of the Orinoco, which is shown nearly to its source, and reflects the lack of knowledge regarding the interior of the continent. Excellent coastal detail and many mountains, lakes, rivers, towns, islands, capes etc. shown. One of the earliest obtainable regional maps of this area. From the 1662 edition of Sanson's L'Amerique en Plusieurs Cartes Nouvelles... the third atlas to focus solely upon America.
