Description:

Rare 1846 edition of Bradford's map of North America, with the boundary line established by the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo drawn in red.

Russian America appears, as does Lake Timpanagos and the remnants of some of the West's mythical cartography, pre-dating the first of Fremont's reports. Curious truncation of the western part of Texas.

This is the first time we have ever seen this red-line edition of the map.

Detailed Condition:

Minor foxing.
