Description:

Decorative example of De L'Isle's first world map, first issued in 1700.

The map is noteworthy for the many explorer's routes illustrated in the Atlantic and the Pacific and its depiction of an incomplete Northwest coast of America, incomplete Australia and New Zealand, misdirected tip of South America and remnants of the unknown Southern Continent.

The present example is the third state, still dated 1700, but with the address changed to Quai de l'Horloge.

Detailed Condition:

Trimmed to neat lines, with margins added.
