Description:

Detailed chart of the Mediterranean Coast of Panama, Costa Rica and Honduras, published by the US Coast & Geodetic Survey.

The chart provides a highly detailed coastal treatment of the region, along with the offshore islands, soundings, sailing notes, etc.

The chart tracks the coastline at a critical time in the history of the region, during the initial period of construction of the Panama Canal under the auspices of the first French Company which attempted to complete the project.

Detailed Condition:

Minor soiling.
