Description:

Fascinating map of North America, intended to illustrate the scope of the British Empire in the decade prior to the Seven Years War.

The map covers the North Sea (Atlantic Ocean) from the Polar Circle to the Equator, showing much of North America, the Caribbean, and parts of Europe and Africa.

The detail in the British Colonies in North America includes Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York and New England. Very curious projection of Florida. Bermuda is shown. The various British Family Dukedoms in Europe are noted, as are certain strategic places on the Gold Coast in Africa and elsewhere.

The map notes that:

The Countries colour'd Yellow are now possessed by the King of Great Britain

Thos Colour'd Green did anciently belong to the Crown of England.

Small Islands, Cities, Towns, Settlement, Factories, &c. belonging to Great Britain, are distinguished by a fine black stroke drawn under their respective Names; and such as formerly belonged to England by a fine peck'd Line under them in like manner.
