Description:

Rare separately issued map of the area around Richmond, Virginia, published by E & GW Blunt in July, 1862.

The map shows Richmond and the railroad lines, canal, roads and rivers that feed into the City, including the Richmond & Danville Railroad, the Richmond & Petersburg Railroad, the Richmond & York River Railroad and two other unnamed lines. The U.S Arsenal on the James River is also shown.

To the south, the map also highlights the railroads running to Petersburg, including the Petersburg and Lynchburg Railroad, the Norfolk & Petersburg Railroad and the Petersburg Railroad.

Many other roads are shown, along with towns, Court Houses, rivers, swamps, and other details. One unusual feature of the map is the inclusion of soundings for the Rivers, Bays and Coastlines shown on the map, a feature which was consistent with the Blunt firm, which was best known for its fine sea charts. In fact, this is one of only a few examples of the Blunt firm publishing land maps, most of which were rare separately issued "Seat of War" maps, including

- E. & G.W. Blunt's Corrected Map of Washington and the Seat of War on the Potomac
- Map of Part of Virginia, Maryland and Delaware from the best Authorities 1861.
- E & G.W. Blunt's Map of Charleston And Vicinity Published by E & G.W. Blunt . . . 1862

The present map would seem to employ a portion of the lithographic stone previously used for Blunt's rare extremely rare Map of Part of Virginia, Maryland and Delaware from the best Authorities 1861.: {{
