Description:

Antique engraving of two Dutch East India Company settlements in the Spice Islands: Ambon and Fort Belgica on Banda Neira.

Fort Belgica was an important fort in the area for centuries, originally starting as a Portuguese installation in the 16th century. A volcano is depicted erupting nearby, throwing boulders and knocking down trees.

The engraving was page 475 from Neue Welt und Americanische Historien by Johann Ludwig Gottfried, published by Mattaeus Merian, Frankfurt, 1631.
