Description:

Finely executed Revolutionary War era sea chart of the North Atlantic Ocean, published in Paris by Jean Lattré.

The map extends from the coasts of Iceland and Greenland in the north to just below the Equator, with 4 profiles views shown in Africa, illustrating profiles on Cape Verde Island, Cap Mesurado and Cap Lopo.

The map illustrates the trading routes across the Atlantic to the Caribbean, New York, Boston and Newfoundland.

The outlines of the 13 Colonies are shown, as well as several French Forts, south of Lake Erie.

This chart is apparently quite rare on the market.
