Description:

An 18th Century English Wall Map of Asia Showing the Gulf of Corea

Nice example of the 4 sheet Laurie and Whittle wall map of Asia.

The map is one of the largest maps of Asia to appear in a Commercial Atlas in the 18th Century.

The map was originally published by Robert Sayer, circa 1772.

While the Sea of Corea appears with some frequency, the Gulf of Corea is a much more unusual name.

Detailed Condition:

4 sheets, joined as 2. Some offsetting.
