Description:

1831 River Scene Drawn Near Savannah Georgia.

Excellent pencil landscape drawing by Baron de Courcy, made during 1831 when he was on his extended tour of North America.

The drawing is said to show or be related to For Moor (or Moon) -- perhaps this is related to the Moon River -- but we are unable to find a reference to the fort in the historical record.

Detailed Condition:

Original pencil drawing tipped onto a contemporary album leaf. With contemporary ink manuscript border and caption.
