Description:

Scarce map of Southeast Asia and China, centered on the Philippines, published in Amsterdam by Mortier.

The map shows a number of early expeditions to and from the Philippines, headed east across the Pacific, along with the route to Siam, likely the one utilized by the French Embassy in 1686.

The configuration of the Philippines is quite primitive.

While the sheet is titled "Third Part," the map was typically issued either as a single sheet, or as 1 sheet of a rare 4 sheet wall map of Asia, published by Mortier prior to 1703.

This first state of the map, published with just the Mortier imprint, is quite scarce on the market.
