Description:

Pictorial Map Drawn By One of Mexico's Great Twentieth-Century Art Experts

Rare pictorial map of Morelia, Mexico, published by the Secretaria de Hacienda y Credito Publico in Mexico City. The map is included in Justino Fernandez's Morelia . . . Su Situacion, Historia, Caracteristicas, Monumentos, Nomenclaturas. Con Un Plano Pictorio de la Ciudad, published by Tuallers de Impresion de Stampillas y Valores in Mexico City, 1936.

Drawn by Justino Fernandez in Mexico City in September 1934, the map notes that it has been constructed using a plan of Morelia created in 1898 and information from the City Directory of 1932.

The map provides a marvelous animated look at the town, including street names, public markets, cathedrals, and other main buildings in the historic center, with the Sector Independencia, Sector Revolución, Colonia Vaco de Quiroga, Bosque Cuauhtemoc, Sector Nueva España, Colonia Cuauhtemoc, Colonia Atenogenes Silva, Colonia Juarez, Parque Juarez, Colonia Cortijo, Sector República, and Rio Grande shown in the periphery.
