Description:

Rare separately published Justus Danckerts map of Hungary, based upon an early map by Pierre Du Val.

Du Val original published his map during the Great Turkish War (1683-1699), illustrating the Hapsburg controlled region at a time when the Ottoman Empire was threatening a new and deeper incursion into Christian Europe.

The map was issued shortly after the formation of the Holy League, a joint alliance to fight back the Ottoman advances in 1684. Over the course of the next 15 years, improved military tactics and the combined Holy League military strength would crush the Turkish forces, leading to the Treaty of Karlowitz (1699), which gave to Hapsburg Austria all of Hungary and a significant portion of the Balkans and Transylvania.
