Description:

Moullart-Sanson's Very Rare Elementary Atlas with Many Maps of the World, Its Hemispheres, Poles, Etc. in Different Projections.

Quarto (10 x 7.75 inches). Contemporary calf, spine richly gilt (somewhat rubbed and worn, head of spine chipped, rear joint partly split). Engraved title and 25 double-page engraved maps colored in outline.

Pierre Moullart-Sanson, the nephew of Guillaume Sanson, expanded on the work of his uncle.

The maps are dated 1696-1704. The world maps depict California as an island (see McLaughlin 125-126) and Australia.

Though very rare, this work appeared in multiple editions. A fixed set of collations has not been established, but completeness can be assumed, as this copy matches that in the Bibliotheca Angelica, Rome.

Detailed Condition:

Slight browning throughout, minimal staining in places, tear to white margin of 1 map.
