Description:

Decorative pictorial map of the area around Penobscot Bay by Luther Phillips.

As noted by Rumsey:

Pictorial map of Maine's Penobscot Bay and part of of the river Penobscot, by L. S. Phillips. Printed with textual explanations. The map covers from Bangor south as far as Camden and the northern part of Deer Island and east as far as Blue Hill Harbor. Includes historical notations. At the top margin notes the important events in the history of the regions - from the 'first recorded description of Norumbega' in 1569 to the 'great fire - April 30' in 1911, and a note near the compass rose reads, "Discovered by Gomes in 1525 and named by him 'Baya Fermosa' (beautiful bay), the Penobscot ..." Maps shows roads, rivers, lakes, highways, islands, ports, ships, buildings and landmarks. Relief shown by contours and spot heights. Includes
