Description:

Promoting Irrigated Farm Lands in Southern Idaho

Fine view showing a section of the Snake River from the south, centered on the lower Salmon River and the lands of the Twin Falls North Side Tract and Twin Falls South Side Tract, published in 1908.

Includes a Plate of the Twin Falls Country of Southern Idaho on the verso, illustrating the lands of the Twin Falls North Side Water Company, with an extensive text track describing the project, the Carey Act, Twin Falls Salmon Tract, Cheap Electric Power and farming opportunities.
