Description:

Decorative map of Africa. Includes nice coastal detail and some progression on the interior cartography. The source of the Nile is two adjacent lakes. A number of native tribal names and other details. Sailing ships surround the continent. Norwich 97. A fresh example of this striking map. This is from a very scarce late edition, with printed text on either side, rather than the pastedown text which was found in earlier editions. This late example, in addition to being scarcer, is much more attractive than the earlier examples.
