Description:

Interesting birdseye view style map and promotional pamphlet, published by the LA Chamber of Commerce Convention and Tourist Department.

The primary graphic covers the LA Basin, from the San Fernando Valley to San Juan Capistrano and Murrieta in the south and Hemet, Redlands and Big Bear Lake in the east, superimposing the major roads and location of cities on to the photographic caricature of the basin.

The image is ringed by photographs of recreational opportunities around Los Angeles.

The verso includes a few paragraphs on the major regional tourist destinations, along with many more photographs of major tourist attractions, with a view of Downtown LA in the center.
