Monumental Six Sheet Map of the Danube Region

Nice example of Vincenzo Maria Coronelli's magnificent 6-sheet map of the course of the Danube River from Vienna to Nikopolje, published in Venice.

The map is a remarkable compendium of information relating to the ongoing wars with the Ottoman Empire in the region. Many of the major settlements shown on the map are annotated with details from the wars, including dates of major conflicts, multiple names used for the settlement in different languages, populations and other interesting details. Especially interesting are the notes about number of inhabitants and houses in particular settlements. A number of coats of arms are also included, denoting the various Kingdoms, etc., including a blank coat of arms in modern Albania.

6 sheets, unjoined. Minor discoloration at centerfolds.
