Description:

One of The Earliest Appearances of Toronto on a Printed Map

Interesting regional map of Canada, from the Great Lakes to the Bay of Fundy and the St. Lawrence River.

Upper Canada includes a number of the early cities formed by the Canada Company. These include Toronto, which had been called York, but on March 6, 1834, when the city was incorporated, changed its name to Toronto.

Large insets of Montreal and Quebec City.
