Description:

A French View of Europe Immediately After the Napoleonic Wars.

Beautiful and exactly engraved four-sheet map of Europe, published in Paris in 1816 by France's foremost mapmaker of the time, Hubert Brué.

The map is noteworthy for its precision of detail and treatment of the byzantine political boundaries that followed the resolution of the Napoleonic Wars and the restoration of the Bourbon Monarchy. No place are the borders more convoluted than in Germany. For this the map devotes an entire key in the lower-left corner titled "States of Germany".

The map comes from a set of four-sheet maps that Brué made for this Atlas Universel Encyprototype which featured a series of four-sheet maps and single sheet reductions.

The map is rare, this being the first time we have had it.

Detailed Condition:

Four sheets, unjoined. Original hand-color. Excellent condition.
