Description:

With a Rare 1849 Map of California.

This early German description of California was published to take advantage of the keen European interest in the California gold discovery. Like many such publications, the author drew heavily upon previous travel accounts, including Duflot de Mofras, John C. Frémont, Alfred Robinson, and Alexander Forbes. Hoppe's introduction to California consisted mainly of a geographical and historical discussion together with a climatology by Professor Erman. Erman also wrote on the discovery and importance of gold, based on information gathered during a visit to San Francisco while circumnavigating the globe. Hoppe was interested in promoting the European colonization of the West Coast of North America.

The full title of the book is: Californiens Gegenwart und Zukunft von J. Hoppe Nebst Beitragen von A. Erman Über die Klimatologie von Californien und Über die Geographische Verbreitung des Goldes. Hierzu Zwei Karten: 1) Californien von J. Hoppe. 2) Die bis 1849 Bekannt Gewordenen Golddistrikte von A. Erman.
