Description:

Two outstanding regional maps of Africa. The north sheet extends south to the Mountains of Kong or Mountains of the Moon. The Sahara Desert appears prominently, with the routes traversing the continent through the Sudan very much in evidence. The routes of Browne, Horneman, Bruce, and Park are shown, along with the Caravan Routes. The Southern map is also remarkably detailed and shows the extensive settlements and topographical details of the South. Campbell's route and return are shown. A terrific pair of maps, illustrating the interest and explorations of the early 19th Century.
