Description:

Beautiful View of Papenberg Island and Nearby Coastlines, from the Original Russian Edition of Krusenstern's Important Atlas

Fine example of this skillfully-engraved view of Papenberg Island on Russia's Pacific Coast, based upon drawings taken by Wilhelm Gottlieb Tilesius in 1804-5, which appeared in the atlas to accompany Ivan Federovich von Krusenstern's account of the first Russian circumnavigation.

The view is drawn from the work of German naturalist and illustrator Wilhelm Gottlieb Tilesius (1769-1857), who accompanied Krusenstern on the expedition. Knowing that his expedition would result in new findings, Krusenstern included Tilesius to serve as an illustrator for biological research. Tilesius effectively became the official illustrator and later published many specialized scientific articles regarding the expedition.

The view shows an anchored Russian vessel mingling with Japanese ships. In the distance, some settlements can be seen on the shore.

The atlas of Reise um die Welt

This view appeared in the atlas volume that accompanied Krusenstern's account. Dedicated to the Czar, the magnificent atlas is a great rarity. Krusenstern's account of the circumnavigation has been described as:

an example of the extraordinary labour and perseverance of the author, as well as his superior talents as a navigator and astronomer. None of his statements have ever been called into question; while the discoveries and nautical corrections are universally acknowledged to have been of infinite service to navigation . . . . (Dawson, Memoirs of Hydrography, Eastbourne, 1885)

The atlas volume is widely-recognized as a tremendous cartographic and printing achievement and its contents are rare on the market. This is the first time we have offered this view.
