Description:

First Edition!

Detailed engraved folding map of Ohio, issued by J.H. Colton in 1852.

The map shows the "new" Ohio Statehouse building. Ohio had planned to build a new statehouse building for years, but the project took on urgency in 1852 when the old Ohio Statehouse burned down. The construction of the new statehouse lasted until 1861.

Colton's "Railroad & Township" maps tend to be some of the largest and most detailed maps of a particular state that he issued.

Rarity

To our knowledge, no authoritative census of editions exists, however, Rumsey has at least six editions. The earliest he has is 1853, which he describes as the second edition.

Detailed Condition:

Folding map. Some folds reinforced on verso. Scant hand-coloring highlighting routes to and from Zanesville and elsewhere.
