Description:

Rare Early 19th-Century Map of Philadelphia and the Nearby Delaware River.

A fine example of John Luffman's rare map of the Philadelphia area, published in London in 1802.

The map extends from Kensington in the north to Chester in the south, covering Mud Island and the nearby Revolutionary War-era fort.

The text at the bottom notes:

Philadelphia the Capital of the State of Pennsylvania was founded by William Penn in 1632, The Delaware is navigable up to the City for large Ships.

Rarity

Maps by John Luffman are very scarce on the market, this being the first time we have had this one.
