Description:

Scarce map of North America, with two large inset maps, one depicting the NW Coast of America and one depicting the Sandwich Isles. The map includes some of the best ephemeral cartography of the early 19th Century, including a marvelous depiction of the NW Coast, based upon Vancouver's voyages, 54-40 or fight Canada-Oregon Territorial border, excellent post Lewis & Clark cartography, two Salt Lakes (Timanagos & Teguayo), mythical rivers connecting Salt Lake to San Francisco Bay, double wide Arkansas Territory, massive Oregon Territory, the Spanish Trail from Sabine to Santa Fe past Salt Lake to just north of San Francisco, and a host of other details. One of the best features of the map are the many Hudson's Bay Company Houses depicted, including Nelson Hs, Acton Hs, Chesterfield Hs, Manchester Hs, Buckingham Hs, Hudsons Hs, Cumberland Hs, Pine Hs, Chatam Hs, Grands Hs, Marlborough Hs, Henly Hs, Red Lake Hs, Brunswick Hs, Abittibbi Hs, Osnaburg Hs, Gloucester Hs, etc. A number of early forts are also shown in Canada and the Northwest. This edition states that it is revised to 1823, but several annotations are dated as late as 1824. A scarce map which apparently appeared in early editions of Steiler's Hand Atlas.
